Circuit Court.

After a straggling four weeks' term of the Bourbon Circuit Court, the November term came to a close Saturday morning. During the term Judge Robt. L. Stout decided a number of important equity cases. He is fast gaining the reputation of being one of the very best judges in Kentucky.

Judge Stout seemed to become tired of the procrastinating lawyers of the Paris bar and informed them of the fact. He told them that he would give them until the March term of Court to improve on filing their pleadings in cases, that if they did not have cases ready for trial he would be compelled, for self protection, to enforce the practice law to the letter upon them. In the call of the old equity docket he filed away eighty-seven cases that had been there for a number of years.

The following negroes were sentenced to the penitentiary:

French Clay, robbery, four years; Richard Wade, alias Cricket, receiving stolen property, one year, and Newton Allen, for malicious cutting and wounding, two years.

Classic Dramatic Recital.

James S. Wood, under the auspices of St. Peter's Episcopal church will give a classic dramatic recital, Friday evening, Dec. 27, in the Odd Fellows lodge room, over Crosdale's Cafe. Admission 50 cents.

Last Turkey Shipment.

C. S. Brent & Bro. made their last turkey shipment Saturday. This firm has this season slaughtered 9,000 turkeys in Flemingsburg, 5,000 in Paris, 10,000 in Millersburg and 8,000 in Carlisle. The total shipment is 32,000 head, averaging 11 pounds per head, which placed into circulation over $35,000 in cash.

Bright Young Minister.

Rev. Edwin Tadlock, member of the senior class at the Presbyterian Theological Seminary at Louisville, preached two excellent sermons at the Second Presbyterian church Sunday. Mr. Tadlock was formerly of Clintonville, this county, and has a brilliant future ahead of him, judging from his sermons Sunday.

Hurt in Runaway.

H. A. Galbraith, of this city, is in receipt of a letter from his sister, Mrs. Joseph Rice, of Nyburg, Col., who formerly resided in Paris, stating that her two daughters, Misses Iva and Bessie Rice, had been seriously injured by being thrown from a buggy in a runaway accident, while returning from church, the latter suffering from concussion of the brain.

DEATHS.

—The remains of little Jessie Pearl McKenney, the nine-months-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. McKenney, of Covington, were brought here for interment in the Paris cemetery. In absence of Elder Morgan, Mr. W. O. Hinton read an appropriate spiritual lesson and offered beautiful prayer at the grave. Mr. and Mrs. McKenney formerly resided in Paris with the former's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. M. McKenney, and within the last two years have lost three of their five children.

—Judge John E. Cooper, of Mt. Sterling, former Circuit Judge, Confederate veteran, State Senator and widely known lawyer, died at a hotel in Hot Springs, Ark., Sunday, after an illness of about two months.

—Mrs. Hiram Scroggins, of Louisville, formerly Miss Kate Redmon of this county, died at her home in Louisville Sunday. She was the daughter of Mr. George Redmon, of North Middletown.

—Wm. Mac Miller, son of the late John Clark Miller, formerly of Millersburg, died yesterday afternoon at St. Louis, from paralysis. Mr. Miller was here only a few days ago, bringing the remains of his mother, Mrs. Jane McClelland Miller, for burial in Millersburg cemetery.

—Mrs. C. N. Fitrian received a telegram yesterday announcing the death of her little niece, Laura Starr McClintock, at Huntington, W. Va. She was the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John McClintock, 8 years of age and the idol of her fond parents. Diphtheria was the cause of her death.

—Mrs. Sallie Peyton Sidener, wife of Mr. Wm. Sidener, died yesterday at her home on South Main street of pneumonia. She is survived by her husband and two daughters, Mrs. Alice Crick and Miss Mary Sidener.

Funeral services will be held at the residence this, Tuesday, afternoon at 2:30 o'clock, conducted by Elder Carey E. Morgan.

Stricken With Paralysis.

Mr. C. C. Clark, of Millersburg, was stricken with paralysis Friday afternoon at the home of his son Mr. Chas. Clark, Jr., on Pleasant street, in this city. He is nearly 70 years of age and there is little hope of his recovery.

Notice.

No more six months accounts. Beginning Jan. 1st. My terms will be strictly 30 days. All bills due first of each month.

Sunday School Social.

The teachers of the Sunday School of the Second Presbyterian church will give a social in the lecture room of the church on Friday evening, at 7 o'clock to the scholars of the Sunday school. All members of the church are invited to be present.

Progressing Nicely.

The brick and stone work of the first story of the new High School building is completed and unless bad weather sets in the large force of workmen will continue, as the building committee is rushing the work in order that the building may be completed in ample time for the opening of school Sept. 1, 1908. Mr. Hatfield Bappert, the Paris contractor, is putting up as nice a job of brick work on the school building as ever seen in this section.

"Kentucky: United, We Stand; Divided, We Fall."

The above heading is a toast that was responded to last evening, Dec. 23rd, by Justice John Marshall Harlan at a banquet given by "The Kentuckians," at the Plaza Hotel, New York City. It was given in honor of Justice Harlan, in commemoration of the completion, on Dec. 10th, of his thirty years of service as an Associate Justice of the Supreme Court of the United States. Hon. John G. Carlisle, President of the Club, presided. We give extracts from Justice Harlan's remarks, viz:

Mr. President. Fellow-Kentuckians and Guests:

I count myself most happy to be surrounded on the present occasion by so many representative men of my native State. Every true man has a peculiar affection for the State in which he first saw the light of day and in which he passed his early life. But it has seemed to me—indeed, and fact has been often commented upon by others—that there is an unusual feeling of brotherhood among Kentuckians. I am far enough advanced in years, fellow-Kentuckians, to have known personally the fathers, even the grandfathers, of many members of this Club. At a memorable period in the country's history I stood with the fathers of many of you under the flag of the Union, while the fathers of some of your number rallied under another flag—each man, whether under the one flag or the other, resolutely contending for what, in his conscience, he deemed to be right. But we who then were opposed are, I rejoice to say, no longer estranged, but, with hands clasped in friendship, stand together under the same flag, now recognized throughout the world as the emblem of the great Republic. We may differ about political questions, but, apart from such differences, when Kentuckians meet, whether in one of the States or in foreign lands, they warm towards each other because they are fellow-Kentuckians.

We are, however, something more than Kentuckians. We are Americans. Write as that praise may sound, the oldest I grow the more precious to me is the fact it expresses. Proud as we may well be of the State that gave birth to Abraham Lincoln and Zachary Taylor and Samuel F. Miller, that sent Henry Clay and John J. Crittenden to the Senate, and grew such men as Isaac Shelby, George Nicholas, the Breckinridges, the Marshalls, John Boyle, George Robertson, Joseph R. Underwood, James Guthrie, John L. Helm, Richard H. Menefee, and many other distinguished in all the walks of life and too numerous to be mentioned on such an occasion—what would it mean to us to be Kentuckians if we were not also, or, rather, first of all, Americans, whose allegiance to the Nation in matters of general concern is above our allegiance to any State; just as the Constitution of the United States, with respect to all national objects, is above the Constitution of any State.

The Toast assigned to me suggests, Mr. President, many interesting thoughts about the early days of our Commonwealth and its relations to the National Government. Going back for a moment to the beginnings of Kentucky's history we recall the interesting fact that very shortly after the close of the War for Independence and after the acceptance of the Constitution by the requisite number of States, a scheme was devised by foreigners and domestic traitors to detach the people of Kentucky from all connection with the States and the Atlantic, and to make the Alleghanies the western limit of the United States. This scheme found no favor with the indomitable hunters of Kentucky, who, surrounded by hostile Indian tribes in the wiles of the country then unsettled, established a State government, with a Constitution modeled after the Federal Constitution, and, more than a century ago applied to Congress for the admission of their State into the Union. Thus our fathers, resisting all appeals made to them to establish an independent State in the West, placed themselves by the side of their brethren of the original States, and caused to be ascribed upon Kentucky's coat of arms the suggestive and memorable words, "United, we stand Divided, we fall." There comes to my mind, Mr. President, a personal letter of the great Chief Justice, in which he made such striking use of Kentucky's motto that it is peculiarly appropriate upon this occasion to quote his words. He said: "I am disposed to ascribe my devotion to the Union, and to a government competent to its preservation, at least as much to casual circumstances as to judgment. I had grown up at a time when the maxim, 'United, we stand, divided, we fall,' the maxim of every orthodox American, and I had imbibed these sentiments so thoroughly that they constituted a part of my being. I carried them with me into the army, where I found myself associated with brave men from different States, who were risking life and everything valuable in a common cause believed by all to be most precious, and where I was confirmed in the habit of considering America as my country and Congress as my government." The habit of considering America as his country was the keynote of the life and work of incomparable jurist whose proud and lucid judgments, on behalf of the Court of which he was the head, built the broad highway upon which the Nation has advanced to its present position of power and strength and unity.

There are some, Mr. President, who think they see dark clouds upon the horizon of our future, and express grave apprehension as to the stability of the government ordained by the people of the United States and established by the Constitution. In a population of ninety millions, comprising people from all parts of the earth, many of whom have no proper conception of liberty regulated by law, nor any just regard for the rights of others, who must expect to find many who indulge in gloomy forebodings as to the future of the country, and who seem to cultivate the habit of predicting disaster. Such people are quite unhappy when the facts do not justify them in believing that everything is going wrong. But there is no occasion for alarm. The American people, knowing that eternal vigilance is the price of liberty will take care that no harm shall come to the Government. At all times since the organization of the Government they have shown themselves equal to every emergency, however, sudden or startling, which involved the safety of our free institutions. They may seem, at times, to tolerate false, visionary and mischievous views, but in the end they surely recognize the dangers of the situation, whatever they may be, and do what prudence and patriotism require at their hands. Their final deliberative judgment upon public questions is quite certain to be the best of all concerned.

What, let me ask, are some of the grounds upon which the pessimist of these days bases his fears for the safety of our institutions? He persuades himself to believe that the trend in public affairs to-day is towards the centralization of all governmental power in the nation and the destruction of the rights of the States. If his were really the case, the duty of every American would be to resist such a tendency by every means in his power. A National Government for national affairs, and State government for State affairs, is the foundation rock upon which our institutions rest. Any serious departure from that principle would bring disaster upon the American people and upon the American system of free Government.

But the fact is not as the pessimist alleges it to be. The American people are more determined than at any time in their history to maintain both National and State Rights, as those rights exist under the Union ordained by the Constitution. I say the people of the United States, for although the Constitution was accepted by the separate action of the people in their respective States, they moved together, in their collective capacity, as one people, in creating a Nation for certain specified objects of general concern. They will not patiently consider any suggestion or device that looks to a Union upon any other basis. They will maintain, at whatever cost and in all their integrity, both National and State Rights.

The best friends of State rights, permit me to say, are not those who habitually denounce as illegal everything done by the General Government, but those who recognize the Government of the Union as possessing all the powers granted to it the Constitution, either expressly or by necessary implication for, without a General Government possessing such powers in relation to matters of national concern, the States would be in perpetual conflict, and lose their prestige before the world. With equal truth, it may be said, that the best friends of the Union are those who hold that the States possess all governmental powers not granted to the General Government, and that are not inconsistent with the Constitution of the United States or with a Republican form of government. The people of the United States cherish, and will compel adherence, to the fundamental doctrine that the States are vital parts of the American system of government; and they will equally insist upon the recognition of the just powers of the States—to be exerted always in subordination to the Supreme Laws of the land—as essential to the preservation of our liberties. The Supreme Court of the United States has again and again declared, upon full consideration, that a close and firm Union is essential to the liberty and happiness of the American people, and that "without the States in union there could be no such political body as the United States."

If then the matchless government devised by the fathers and ordained by the people of the United States is to be preserved and handed down intact to posterity, National power and State power must go hand in hand in harmony with the Constitution. If those powers clash, the paramount authority of the Union within its prescribed sphere of action must prevail. Such is the expressed mandate to the Constitution, and such, our common sense and experience tell us, must always be the case, if liberty regulated by law is not to perish from our land. The Nation is supreme within the sphere of its action as defined by the Constitution, and its authority, when legally exerted, binds every State as well as all individuals within the territory of the United States. The glory of the Republic is that its affairs are regulated by a written constitution—a fundamental law which distributes the powers of government among three separate, co-equal and co-ordinate departments, each exercising the authority, and only the authority, conferred upon it, and which law, until amended in the mode prescribed by itself, must be deemed supreme over the Congress, over the States and over the courts, over the States and over the people themselves.

The pessimist is misled by the declaration of some happy few in number, who hold that, whatever the words of the Constitution, that instrument should be so construed as to make it mean what a majority of the people think, at a given time, it should mean. He is also misled by the theory advanced by those who hold that Congress must be permitted to exert any governmental power whatsoever, not expressly denied to it, if that body deems that its exercise will promote "the general welfare." But such theories of constitutional construction find no support in judicial decisions or in sound reason, least of all in the final judgments of that tribunal whose greatest functions it is to declare the meaning and scope of fundamental law.

Mr. President, I owe an apology for saying this much. There are other speakers to follow, whom I know you are eager to hear. But I cannot take my seat without thanking the Kentuckians of this imperial city for the high honor they have done me on this occasion. The memory of it will abide with me to my life's end, and will be a sweet heritage for my children. During all the years of a life now quite extended—much of which has been passed in the Nation's service, away from my native State—there has never been a moment when I did not have an abiding affection for the great-hearted, high-minded, chivalrous people of my Kentucky home, which has been the home of my people since the day before the Revolution. The old Commonwealth, Mr. President, is indeed, a goodly land—a land of brooks of water, of fountains and depths that spring out of valleys and hills, a land wherein "thou shalt eat bread without scarceness," and "shalt not lack anything in it." And yet, well nigh inexhaustable as are its natural resources, Kentucky's richest possession is in its people. The brave men who first settled the State and made its Constitution and laws and guided its affairs during the formative years of its early history, were worthy sons of a sturdy stock. They were great lovers of liberty and were devoted to the Union.

In closing, Mr. President, I must again express my deep satisfaction in the thought that upon all questions affecting the existence of the Union the Kentuckians of 1907 are as thoroughly united as were their fathers when, in 1792, our Commonwealth became, in the words of Congress, "a new and entire member of the United States of America." Her people, we are all glad to know, have outgrown the feelings of distrust and animosity that divided them in the perilous times of 1861, and their faces are now turned steadily and hopefully to the future, determined that Kentucky shall play her full part in the building up of our beloved land in all that makes for true national greatness.

And, if tonight, it were possible for me to send a word to the young men of my native State—of whatever political parties they are members—the message would be this: Forget the things that are behind, save only the able deeds of the mighty dead who gave Kentucky its large place in the early history of the nation. Quench whatever remains, in both parties, of the baleful fires of narrow partisanship, and of the spirit of mere affection. Crush the monster of lawlessness in whatever way its evil deeds are manifested. Maintain the rights of all. While remaining loyal to whatever may be your various political affiliations, strive after large, generous and broad policies, and lift the State steadily toward higher levels. Work shoulder to shoulder in the effort to build up our grand old Commonwealth in all things that will contribute to its moral, material and intellectual welfare. Then you will help most effectively in giving Kentucky a worthy place among those States that shall lead the Nation in its noble mission of commanding to the world the priceless blessings of institutions that rest upon the consent of the governed and recognize the inherent rights of man as man.

Merry Christmas!

Again we are enjoying the Christmas season, and the hearts of the young and the old are made merry by the joys and festivities that throng the holidays. To the child it means toys, sweetmeats and the pleasure of vacation. To the older ones it brings that renewal of youth that comes from contact with the buoyancy of youth. The children, not yet acquainted with the joys of giving, are overflowing with happiness because of what they have received while their parents, measuring life by a higher standard, find a deep satisfaction in the joys that they impart.

Let not the circle of kinship bound the generosity that the season prompts, for it is not a small gift that gave to Christmas its significance, and to the Christian world this day so faithfully observed. He in whose honor the Christmas tree is reared gave the full measure of a life, and the spirit that ascended from Calvary has entered into the life of many millions, and that spirit has given to those lives a fullness that they would not otherwise have known. If the world's indebtedness to the precepts of the man of Galilee measures the bounty to be scattered on the coming Christmas morn, the world will be filled with gifts and gratitude.

The News bids its readers a Merry Christmas and a Happy New Year.

New Evidence.

New evidence, which had never been told on the witness stand before, connecting Henry Youtsey with the murder of Goebel, was brought out at Georgetown at the trial of Caleb Powers. The new witness testified that he was told by Youtsey that he, Youtsey, would kill Goebel. It was brought out by the prosecution that only the attorneys for the defense had ever been told of this statement.

DO NOT KNOW WHAT CAUSES SICKNESS

Modern People Have Many Names for Same Diseases, According to New Belief.

Does human health depend on one organ alone? This question is becoming widely discussed since L. T. Cooper first advanced his theory that the stomach is the true seat of life and all health depend upon it.

Mr. Cooper, who has met with remarkable success in the sale of his new medicine, believes that the stomach is responsible for most sickness, and that this organ is weak in the present generation. While discussing this theory recently, he said: "I am asked time and again to tell why my medicine has made such a record wherever I have introduced it. My answer always is, 'because it restores the stomach to a normal condition.' No one will deny that today there are more half-sick men and women than ever before. Nothing critical seems to be the matter with them. They are just half-sick most of the time. They don't know really what is the matter with them. I have talked with thousands during the past two years, and few knew indeed what their trouble was. One said nervousness, another said kidney trouble, another liver complaint, some constipation, or heart trouble, or lung trouble. Many had treated, as they called it, for most of these diseases at different times. A very common complaint is 'all run down,' or 'tired all the time,' or 'no appetite.'"

"I know positively that every bit of this chronic ill health is caused by stomach trouble, and nothing else. My New Discovery puts the stomach in sound condition in about six weeks. Mighty few people can be sick with a sound digestion. That is why my medicine is selling at such a tremendous rate. I have convinced many thousands of people that these things are so, and the number is growing by leaps and bounds."

Among more recent converts to Mr. Cooper's beliefs is Mr. Edgar L. Hinds living at 6 Tappan Street, Everett, Mass. Mr. Hinds has this to say of the subject:

"I have suffered with stomach trouble for eight years. I was not sick enough to be in bed, but just felt bad all the time. My greatest trouble was that I always felt tired, would get up in the morning feeling as tired as when I went to bed."

"I had a very irregular appetite, and was troubled with dizzy spells. If I stood for any length of time, I would have a dull pain in the lower part of my back. I was nervous and felt all the time as though something terrible was going to happen. I tried many kinds of medicine, but nothing ever helped me."

"I had about given up all hope of ever being in good health again, when I heard so much of Cooper and decided to try his medicine. I took one bottle of his New Discovery and was greatly surprised at the result. I gained 12 pounds in a few weeks. I can now eat anything I wish, and feel like a new man. I cheerfully recommend this medicine to all sufferers from stomach trouble."

It is worth anyone's time, who is not enjoying good health, to learn of Mr. Cooper's wonderful preparations. We are selling them in large quantities.

Do You Open Your Mouth

Like a young bird and gulp down whatever food or medicine may be offered you? Or, do you want to know something of the composition and character of that which you take into your stomach whether as food or medicine?

Most intelligent and sensible people now-a-days insist on knowing what they employ whether as food or as medicine. Dr. Pierce believes they have a perfect right to insist upon such knowledge. So he publishes, broadcast and on each bottle wrapper, what his medicines are made of and verifies it with facts. This he feels he can well afford to do because the more the ingredients of which his medicines are made are studied and understood the more will their superior curative virtues be appreciated.

For the cure of woman's peculiar weaknesses, irregularities and derangements, giving rise to frequent headaches, backache, dragging-down pain or distress in lower abdominal or pelvic region, accompanied, oftentimes, with a debilitating, pelvic, catarrhal drain and kindred symptoms of weakness, Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription is a most efficient remedy. It is equally effective in curing painful periods, in giving strength to nursing mothers and in preparing the system of the expectant mother for baby's coming, thus rendering childbirth safe and comparatively painless. The "Favorite Prescription" is a most potent, strengthening tonic to the general system and to the organs distinctly feminine in particular. It is also a soothing and invigorating, nerve and curative nervous exhaustion, nervous prostration, neuritis, hysteria, spasms, chorea or St. Vitus's dance, and other distressing nervous symptoms attendant upon functional and organic diseases of the distinctly feminine organs.

A host of medical authorities of all the several schools of practice, recommend each of the several ingredients of which "Favorite Prescription" is made for the cure of the diseases for which it is claimed to be a cure. You may read what they say for yourself by sending a postal card request for a free booklet of extracts from the leading authorities, to Dr. R. V. Pierce, Invalids' Hotel and Surgical Institute, Buffalo, N. Y., and it will come to you by return post.

Wonderful Eczema Cure.

"Our little boy had eczema for five years," writes N. A. Adams, Henrietta, Pa. Two of our home doctors said the case was hopeless, his lungs being effected. We then employed other doctors, but no benefit resulted. By chance we read about Electric Bitters; bought a bottle and soon noticed improvement. We continued this medicine until several bottles were used, when our boy was completely cured." Best of all blood medicines and body building health tonics. Guaranteed at Oberdorfer's drug store. 50c.

Knox Announces Candidacy.

Senator Knox has announced his candidacy for the Republican nomination for the Presidency. When analyzed his speech will be found to contain no statement of policy, no promise of remedy.
It eulogizes the Republican party, praises the president and expresses a infinite faith in Republican leaders.
Those who trust the Republican party as implicitly as he does will like the speech, but what of those who want relief and demand something specific?
They will have to look to the Democratic party.

more than offset by the Republicans who confess that neither side of the GOOD for OLD and YOUNG

August Flower keeps the children healthy and strong—
Full of vigor and frolic the whole day long,
So when Mamma needs more they rush off in high glee,
And shout to the druggist: "Please give it to me!"

Inability to get up brisk and fresh in the morning, lack of appetite, pallor, muddy complexion and poor spirits—these all indicate a disordered stomach and bad digestion—in adults and children, too. They also indicate the urgent need of taking Green's August Flower regularly for a few days.

It's a reliable old remedy for all stomach troubles, never fails to cure indigestion, dyspepsia and chronic constipation, and is a natural tonic for body and mind.
Two sizes, 25c and 75c. All druggists.

Mrs. Leslie Carter at Lexington.

Mrs. Leslie Carter, the greatest emotional actress of the present age will appear at the Lexington Opera House Christmas day, matinee and night in David Belasco's play, "Du Barry." The triumphs that Mrs. Carter has achieved in this great play have not been approached by any actress during the present age. Not only is Mrs. Carter's rendition of this role one of the most superb examples of acting known to the modern stage, but the play itself has taken first rank among historical dramas of all times. "Du Barry" is Mr. Belasco's masterpiece, and there is no modern play which approaches it. The cardinal points of Mrs. Carter's acting are sincerity, truth, conviction. When Du Barry is happy and glad, you are possessed of the same feelings—and when she is distracted and miserable, you are affected in the same way. This is the sure mark of a great dramatic artist—to reach over the footlights and clutch the heart-strings of the auditor.

Mrs. Carter is surrounded by a fine company, and the production is the same as the one in which she has always appeared.

The sale of seats opened Monday, Dec. 23rd. The prices will be 50 cents, 75 cents, $1.00, $1.50 and $2.00. All orders sent to Manager Scott will receive prompt attention.

Of Course There is a Santa Claus

The attack on Santa Claus has broken out again, this time in Chicago. The number of men and women who think that children are benighted on a course of deception leading to crime by the perpetuation of the Santa Claus myth is simply astounding. We should like to ask these regenerators of public morals whether they ever suffered any moral or spiritual injury from their own early experiences. And after all, when you come right down to it, who has ever proved that Santa Claus did not come down the chimney last year and for a good many years previous? The little boy who said he believed in Santa Claus, even if he had never seen him, on the same basis that he believed in God, was a good deal more of a philosopher and, we think, a good deal better Christian than some superserviceable critics who belong to the Graugrind school of thinking. Of course there is a Santa Claus, and if anyone doesn't believe it, just wait until to-morrow morning.

May Never Race Again.

There is a possibility that Uncle, the sturdy colt that was Colin's greatest rival for the two-year-old honors of the turf last year, may never race again. While being galloped the other day the horse picked up a stone in his hoof and a bad bruise so caused, still causes the horse to limp painfully. The injury is similar to that which put the great McChesney out of racing.

Uncle was bred by Mr. Catesby Woodford at Raceland stud, this county. He was sold as a yearling to J. E. Madden. Mr. Madden raced him in the east one season and sold him to A. C. Hildreth for $30,000 last summer. The greatest race in which he was a starter was the Saratoga Special, which was won by Colin.

Foraker Plays Roosevelt.

In an address at Cleveland before the Merchant Marine convention, Senator Foraker played the Roosevelt administration, which he charged was responsible for the present financial troubles in which the country finds itself. He condemned the railroad rate bill, also, and urged a movement to establish a greater merchant marine.

Tobacco Situation Looks Good.

After spending the whole day Friday in conference and interchange of views, with the Governor of Kentucky acting as presiding officer, the great interests represented in the growers and buyers of tobacco crops seem in a fair way to reach an amicable footing and a basis upon which the question of supply and demand can be satisfactorily arranged.

Two branches of the great body of the growers' organizations appear to be in a fair way to arrive at an understanding for the sale of a large part of their crop to the American Tobacco Company.

The Burley Tobacco Society, represented by an executive committee, composed of Hon. C. M. Thomas, of Bourbon, Hon. Jas. Kehoe, of Mason, and Hon. J. C. Cantrill, of Scott, and a committee from the Green River Society headed by E. B. McEwen, met with the representatives of the tobacco company and it was arranged that the company shall inspect samples of both societies' crops early in January with a view of purchasing a large part of the crops on hand. The Burley samples will be inspected at Winchester on January 2. The price to be paid is 15 cents. The American Tobacco Company does not propose to buy all, but will take a large portion of it.

National Tuberculosis Exhibition

Shortly after the holidays the National Tuberculosis Exhibition, which has been at the Jamestown Exposition all during the past summer will be brought to Louisville where it will be open for two weeks. It is being brought to the State by the Kentucky Anti-Tuberculosis Association which hopes through its educational influence to awaken throughout the State a greater interest in the fight against Tuberculosis and to impress upon the people in every county, including our own, that there is a great opportunity and a great duty in this effort to stamp out the great "white plague," consumption.

In the last few years yellow fever has lost its terrors, and tuberculosis will doubtless also cease to be a source of dread when the people have been taught how to fight it and how to prevent it.

THEATRICAL.

"QUINCY ADAMS SAWYER."

—There is no question that, in these strenuous days of business life, when competition is so fierce that those who succeed do so only at the expense of a tremendous output of energy, the majority of the people who attend the theatres do so to be taken out of themselves. They seek in the play house recreation and relaxation for their nervous organization.

To this much of the success of "Quincy Adams Sawyer" is doubtless due, for as a celebrated dramatic critic of the Middle States has expressed it, the play comes "like a crisp and refreshing autumn breeze, straight from the hills of New England, bringing with it the sweet aroma of the woods, and the homely music of the farm yard."

No one who sees it can rise from his seat at the close of the performance without feeling refreshed. The play is a tonic in its brightness and its total freedom from the hackneyed and the conventional. As a rural drama it is quite unlike all other plays of its class. Its sentiment possesses a quaint and delicate unobtrusiveness that is quite its own.

One great charm is its exceedingly fidelity to nature. This appears even in its comedy, for the fun which animates almost every moment of the play's action, although irresistibly funny, it never strained to the point of burlesque. The laughter that it invariably creates is of a kind that no one can regret. Those who see this play at the Paris Grand on Friday, Jan. 10, will realize why it is that "Quincy Adams Sawyer" has a popularity so peculiar to itself.

"A BELL BOY" IS AN UP-TO-DATE MUSICAL COMEDY.

"A Bell Boy," in which Johnny Galvin, the clever comedian, who is like George H. Cohan was five years ago, is the chief funmaker, is billed for the attraction at the Paris Grand, Wednesday, Dec. 25, with a special Christmas matinee.

It is described as being a good deal the best and brightest thing in the way of a musical comedy that has been produced in many years, abounding in funny songs, incidents, beautiful scenes and catchy music.

Ella Galvin, the dainty little sourette whose singing and dancing is a never failing source of delight, and Irene Drew, the beautiful singer with a wonderfully powerful and entrancingly sweet soprano voice are also members of the large company which by the way boasts of a genuine beauty chorus that sings and dances as well as looks pretty.

The production is metropolitan in every sense of the term. The scenery is the work of the best artists in New York and the costumes are novel in design, gorgeous in color and most costly in material, while the mechanical and electrical effects are more sensational than any ever seen outside New York.

The grand finale is a big spectacular, patriotic ensemble number employing the entire strength of the company with a brilliant series of electrical effects that are fairly dazzling in their sensationalism. It is appropriately called "The Spirit of '76."
